REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The objections to the specification and the drawings are withdrawn in view of the substitute specification updating the cross-reference information, and the substitute drawings.

The objections to the claims are withdrawn in view of the amendments deleting the brackets in the claims.

The rejection under section 112, first paragraph is withdrawn since it would not constitute undue experimentation to add dimethyl ether to the instant process to enhance separation of the first and second liquid phases.

The rejection under section 112, second paragraph is withdrawn since it is not unclear how the methyl methacrylate is processed.

The rejection under section 103 is withdrawn since Blay fails to teach addition of dimethyl ether. JP 250 teaches the addition of dimethyl ether as a reactant which is consumed in the reaction. Therefore, the JP reference fails to motivate those of ordinary skill to modify Blay to add dimethyl ether in those amount necessary to effect separation of the first overhead to form the first and second liquid phases. Therefore, the JP reference fails to remedy the deficiencies of Blay in teaching the recited process.

An updated search of the prior art failed to uncover a reference that teaches addition of dimethyl ether to an acetic acid process to effect separation of a first liquid phase comprising water and a second liquid phase comprising methyl iodide. In this regard U.S. 4,629,711 teaches adding ethers to separate catalysts. However, this reference fails to motivate those of ordinary skill to add dimethyl ether to an acetic acid process to effect separation of a first liquid phase comprising water and a second liquid phase comprising methyl iodide.

The obviousness-type double patenting rejections are withdrawn in view of the Terminal Disclaimers filed with the outstanding reply.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
